

Juliet HALL

Juliet Hall is a respected and recognized advisor, leadership consultant, international speaker and owner of Juliet Hall INC, a leadership consulting firm based in Atlanta, GA. After 20 years as a corporate executive for Chick-fil-A and Wachovia Bank (Wells Fargo), Juliet learned that “you can either be an unfulfilled laborer in someone else’s kingdom or create your own.” Her authentic storytelling and edifying words on leadership development will captivate and inspire audiences who are at a professional crossroads and seek wise, practical content on transforming organizational culture and maximizing individual leadership.

areas of focus

1. Inclusive Leadership Lessons on microaggressions, unconscious bias and understanding human needs to help leaders transform internal culture.
2. Servant Leadership Character-based model of five practices that great leaders have in common to build culture, individual leadership and teams.
3. Self-Maximization A process to discover, develop and dominate in a sphere of authority according to one’s specialized area of gifting (for aspiring entrepreneurs or those who face/seek a career shift).
4. General Inspiration Uniquely tailored, inspirational messages to engage audiences and set the tone for any meeting, based on organization’s theme.

keynotes

1. "It's a Brain Thing: Outsmarting Your Own Unconscious Bias" In her talk, Juliet uses sensitivity, appropriate and delicate humor, and examples to disarm, engage and help senior leaders become more aware of the biases we all share as humans, so they can lead with mindful intention and foster inclusive environments within their organizations.
2. "Building Organizational Culture and Teams Through Servant Leadership" In this highly popular and inspiring keynote based on the Chick-fil-A SERVE Model (Copyright CFA Properties 2001), Juliet speaks to the heart—the place where transformational leadership begins—and shares five practices to develop average leaders into high-performing servant leaders.
3. "OWN YOUR OPPORTUNITIES® (OYO)" This message is specifically for the unfulfilled, disengaged leaders who are at a professional crossroads in their life and/or career and who need guidance and inspiration on maximizing their life's potential. OYO teaches individuals to look within themselves to discover (identify), develop (invest), and share (impart) their value so they may thrive in their natural area of gifting.
4. "Reactivate Your Human KINDNESS" We've been taught, "It's not personal. It's business." However, all business is personal. In this feel-good presentation, the audience will receive kindness-in-action through admired brands and learn five ways to infuse kindness throughout their organizations. Perfect for opening or closing conference meetings.

As a large hospital system with close to 20,000 employees, it was critical to find someone that could engage our senior leaders and connect with them in a meaningful way that truly made them pause and contemplate topics that are not always easy to digest. She engaged our leaders by using humor, passion, genuineness and an interactive activity. She was illuminating, spirited, and incredibly relevant! Juliet's presentation was well received and the summit surveys echoed that positive feedback from its 350+ attendees of Baptist Health South Florida leaders. Thank you Juliet for your thought provoking presentation!

Dr. Robin D. Tellez
HR Director, Inclusion Strategies/
RN Retention Baptist Health South Florida - Miami, FL

In all of academia, nothing is more gratifying to the students, faculty, and staff like commencement. Having the right speaker is the catalyst to a successful commencement ceremony. GMC - Fairburn was given the extreme honor of having Ms. Juliet Hall to provide inspiring and challenging words to our students. Her chosen charge of "Choose Excellence", was more than appropriate to the over 1,500 in attendance. If your organization is ever in need of an exceptional speaker, choose Ms. Juliet Hall for any occasion.

Archie L. Bouie II
Campus President, Georgia Military College - Fairburn, GA

Juliet Hall is a world-class leader and experienced public speaker who takes her audiences on the journey of self-discovery, motivation, and inspiration. She gets to the heart of a matter when it comes to issues of how we are to live an abundant life. She combines life wisdom with years of valuable experience working for a major and highly respected corporation. She is accessible, authentic and profound. She has inspired many people around the world. She is a rare find and one that is truly unforgettable.

Joanna E. Williamson
Co-Director, One Rock International - London, England

Partial Client
List:

proof of the pudding